

Heritage warns about bogus page

HERITAGE Petroleum Company Ltd is advising the public of a fraudulent Facebook page called 'Heritage Petroleum Trinidad and Tobago' claiming to sell company shares.

Heritage is a wholly Stateowned enterprise with no shares being offered for sale, the company said in a media release on Saturday evening.

'This is the second fake Heritage Petroleum Facebook page over the last week purporting to be selling company shares. On February 5, the fraudulent page was reported to Facebook and was removed within 24 hours of lodging the complaint. This page was also reported,' Heritage stated.

Heritage's only legitimate Facebook page is under the name 'Heritage Petroleum Company Limited at the link: <https://www.facebook.com/HeritagePetroleumCompanyLimited>, it noted.

'The public is strongly urged to refrain from visiting or sharing any fake profiles and to only interact with the company's legitimate page,' the company said.

The fake profiles were also reported to the Trinidad and Tobago Police Service Cybercrime Unit, it added.
