■ GEORGETOWN

THE Egypt-based African Export- Import Bank (Afreximbank) yesterday reiterated its commitment to supporting the Caricom region to realise the full potential of its natural resources.

'We are delighted to be a Diamond Sponsor of the Guyana Energy Conference and Supply Chain Expo. This event provides an invaluable platform for fostering dialogue and collaboration within the energy sector, a critical driver of economic growth in Guyana and the wider Caribbean region,' said Afreximbank's executive vice-president, Intra-African Trade and Export Development Kanayo Awani.

The Guyana Energy Conference and Supply Chain Expo (GECSCCE) will be held from February 18-21, and Awani said Afreximbank participation 'is in line with our Intra-African trade strategy and Global Africa initiative that mandates our intervention to the African diaspora'.

'We look forward to exploring opportunities to contribute to Guyana's energy development through our innovative financing products and solutions, and partnerships,' she added. -CMC
